A MESSAGE FROM THE PRINCIPAL

Dear Students,

I want to thank each of you for your hard work and effort to reach your maximum academic potential. However, we must keep focus on the task at hand which is learning. As you know we have created a culture and climate of Read, Read, Read to Succeed. It is our responsibility to ensure we continue to read and do what is asked of us from our teachers. We believe that all children are creative and capable of learning. We are committed to providing a strong educational base, in a richly diversified environment, that will develop individual interests and talents in all academic areas. As your principal I look forward to making this the best year ever at The M. E. Lewis Sr., Elementary School.

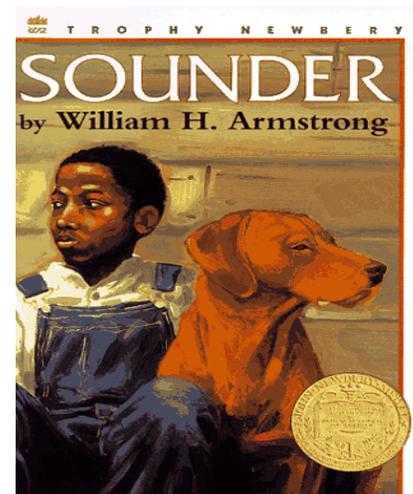

Sincerely,

Dr. Hart, Principal

Reading the Classic "Sounder"

Mrs. K. Evans' fifth grade classes have started the academic year off by reading W. H. Armstrong's classic novel "Sounder." Sounder is a rarely beautiful, understated novel about a black sharecropper and his family in the 19th-century American South. This is an extraordinarily sensitive book, and many students are enjoying reading the novel. Mrs. Evans stated, "After the students complete the reading of the novel, they will be given the opportunity to watch the movie and make a comparison.

5th Grade Studies the Cell

This was a science project. Students made an edible, 3-D model of an animal and a plant cell. The various organelles of the cell were represented by fruits and candies. When they finished making their cell and presenting it in front of the class, they had to answer questions from the teacher and the audience regarding the parts and their functions, after which they had a yummy Jell-o Cell Party!

Dictionaries for 3rd Graders

Near the beginning of each academic school year, representatives from the Lake Oconee Elks Lodge #2849 bring dictionaries to M. E. Lewis, Sr. Elementary School and donate them. On Monday, August 31st, every third grade student received a new dictionary. Our gratitude is expressed to the Elks Lodge members.

Student Caught Reading

In promoting our “Read, Read to Succeed” campaign, one of our male, fifth grade students was caught reading during the early morning hour before our school breakfast. This student was reading for pleasure. Go Bullpup!!!

Note: The first student to complete the “Back to School” word search puzzle and return it to Mrs. Lawson will receive a prize.
